

RL: Manifesto of the Pappas team

SYDNEY, April 6 AAP

The manifesto of the Nick Pappas team which is attempting to take over the South Sydney board at next week's football club elections:

To introduce a 'winning culture' into the club.

To ensure that the club remains a stand-alone entity, true to its traditional heritage.

To ensure that the club is professionally managed.

To re-establish South Sydney's connection with the Sydney business community.

To attract, as we have successfully done before, on-going sponsorship.

To keep the Football Club and the Leagues Club as separate entities so that the Football Club at all times retains its financial integrity.

To remove the self-inflicted tag of a club 'in crisis'.

To work closely with the NRL to ensure that we will achieve the benchmark targets set down for 2005.

To ensure proper decision making process at the club, whereby board decisions are final and cannot be overruled by any individual, elected or otherwise.

To keep board and management deliberations private and confidential.
