
From: Wade Singleton [wade@rabbitohs.com]
Sent: 09 November 2005 15:04
To: Andrew Denton
Subject: Well Said

<http://tinyurl.com/7sb9z>

Well Andrew, I don't know what brought that on but you said what needed to be said. Perhaps a couple of years too late, but better late than never!

I agree with everything you've said, except where you're quoted as saying "Everyone seems afraid to say this because George is the hero of Souths".

Everyone? Well, not quite everyone eh Andrew? I might be a Neville but I've never been afraid of exposing Piggins as the hopeless bully he is. Even after they banned me from the Football Club. But I'm sure you already know all about that, what being tight with Pappas and all. That and the fact you're a celebrity saves you from a similar fate I'm sure.

Anyway, no apologies this time please! You don't need to apologise for being right. Why should our Football Club continue to suffer because of this man's ego? He is a disgrace and The Botak correctly pointed out recently...

"George Piggins is the greatest blight on the SSDRLFC in its entire history."

Regards,
Wade Singleton

P.S. Please do all you can to bring Holmes a Court on board.