Cheers mate

I was trying to get into some of that - although I didn't the bit about Hadley and the dollar amounts - but could not get onto a lot of people. I'll dive into it this week.

No worries, I hope you can turn it into something useful.

What's your take on the Holmes a Court stuff?

Still coming to grips with it all but Holmes a Court seems very genuine in his desire to help my Football Club. It seems he is just the breath of fresh air Souths need...

I am concerned however that Piggins and his crew of troglodytes will chase this bloke away, just like he did to Group 14. Anyway, I should know more next week as he has indicated he'd like to met for a chat via email. Should be interesting...
