Perhaps we should all talk. To be shouting is insanity. What end of the day works for you guys and I will set up a conference call. P

If you want to own the rabbitohs.com domain there is only one way that can happen - you must PAY for it.

wow, strange response.

are you sure you want this to be your position?

Do you want any advice from the club regarding the litigation that is coming your way from people who have been defamed by the site and by you and who are suing other members now?

Do you want to play any role in helping to bring the Rabbitohs family together?

Not sure what you all want, but I can't imagine it is money.

Let's keep this productive, and perhaps a place to start is to let me know what it is that would be a good outcome for you.

This is urgent as I plan to address this before the media gets hold of members being sued by other members.

Peter,

If you want the rabbitohs.com domain you will have to pay for it. You had best make an offer.
